Bequests To The Animal Air Transportation Association

Making a gift to the Animal Air Transportation Association, whether during your lifetime, or through your will, is one of the most gratifying acts a person can perform. You know that your gift will go to support the Animal Air Transportation Association whose concerns, values and ideals you share.

The Animal Air Transportation Association provides the collective expertise of an international body for the benefit of all species of animals in transportation. Bequests are an important source of support in building a sound future for the Animal Air Transportation Association. There are a number of ways in which you can help secure the future of the Animal Air Transportation Association.

Outright Bequest: “I give, devise and bequeath to the Animal air Transportation Association, a non-profit corporation, chartered in the District of Columbia, with its primary office located in Houston, Texas, the sum of $ _____ (or other described assets) for its general purposes.”

If you wish your bequest to be used for a specific purpose or program, please use the following language: “I give, devise and bequeath to the Animal air Transportation Association, a non-profit corporation, chartered in the District of Columbia, with its primary office located in Houston, Texas, the sum of $ _____ (or other described assets) for use in (describe the purpose or program). If, due to the passage of time or changed circumstances, it is impossible or impractical in the Animal Air Transportation Association’s opinion to carry on this program, the funds may be used for another of the Animal Air Transportation Association’s activities which in the Animal Air Transportation Association’s judgment, the donor would have wished to benefit.”

Residuary Bequest: “I give, devise and bequeath all of the rest, residue, and remainder of my estate (or remainder of my trust) to the Animal air Transportation Association, a non-profit corporation, chartered in the District of Columbia, with its primary office located in Houston, Texas, for its general purposes.” If the gift is to be restricted in some way, we recommend using the same language as above.

Contingent Residuary Bequest: “I give, devise and bequeath all of the rest, residue, and remainder of my estate (or remainder of my trust) to _____, but if he/she fails to survive me, then I give the same to the Animal air Transportation Association, a non-profit corporation, chartered in the District of Columbia, with its primary office located in Houston, Texas, for its general purposes.” If the gift is to be restricted in some way, we recommend using the same language as above.

Your gift can consist of almost anything - money, bank accounts, life insurance policies, securities, works of art or real estate, or you may establish a charitable remainder trust and charitable trust as a way to help promote welfare, concern and professionalism in the transportation of animals.

By making a gift to the Animal Air Transportation Association, there is a confidence in supporting ongoing, comprehensive concern for the welfare of animals in transit. Your bequest, a gift from the heart, guarantees that our work continues. For more information, please call our executive director at 713-532-2177 or email to info@aata-animaltransport.org.

The Animal Air Transportation Association was founded in Houston, Texas in 1976 with the mission of emphasizing the importance of safe and humane transport of all animals. The AATA is registered as a 501(c)(6) corporation and receives no funding from the government. Please recognize that these suggestions do not substitute for counsel in creating an estate.
